Spiritueux & Boissons

Life is not linear.

It is not and should not be.

That's the way we see it.

We are not against anything. On the contraire. We are in favor of everything.
Of mixing up. Of going off-piste. Of trying rather than wondering.

We can't avoid our nature. We're a bunch of dreamers looking the opposite way and asking ourselves 'why not?'

We are not against rules. We just feel this urge to invent and stick to new ones.

We write our story the way we want to.

Nothing is wrong for us. Everything is worth trying as we believe a little disorder can be the spark to a thrilling and fascinating new path.

We see what everyone sees. And then we see a bit more and are moved by a visceral impulse to explore those visions.

We just want to be together, create, blend and paint the world with new shades.

We are bringing the other side. The savvy anarchy of joy and soul.

If white sand is the answer why can't white snow be the question?

Why do we have snow skis at the beach? Why shouldn't we?

If the beach is already there, we'll bring the mountain and the snow.

We like to keep asking, keep pushing.

We believe the power of creativity as a way of life.

A happier one.

We are moved by passion, desire will and people.

We play the music we dance. And we ramble on.

A tribe endeavoring to counterbalance sameness.

This is our home.

This is our mountain retreat among beach houses.

Our snow facing the sand.

This is Philippe Stark with PRAIA in Comporta.

And if this doesn't make any sense at all, good. That's the perfect premise.

We're totally comfortable and happy with it.

We're stepping our ground.

Welcome to our chalet.

Let the après-ski begin.
